

DAY 1 RECAP

HERE'S WHAT HAPPENED YESTERDAY

THE FESTIVAL of the
NEW EUROPEAN BAUHAUS

Life. Spaces. Buildings.

A home is more than four walls and a roof, it is the foundation on which people build their lives, family, health, jobs, a sense of belonging.

Ursula von der Leyen

President of the European Commission

Without a good affordable housing policy, there will be no mobility, no capacity to retain talent, and no life prospects for younger generations.

António Costa

President of the European Council

A photograph of Nela Riehl, a woman with dark curly hair, wearing a yellow top, speaking at a podium. She is looking slightly to the right of the camera. The background is a bright blue wall. In the foreground, there is a large, semi-transparent pink circle containing white text. The text is a quote from her, written in a bold, italicized font. The quote is: "The NEB is not only a policy initiative. It is also a cultural, democratic and social project. It asks us to imagine a Europe where sustainability is beautiful, where beauty is inclusive, and where inclusion is intrinsic to the spaces we live in." Below the quote, her name and title are listed in a white, sans-serif font.

The NEB is not only a policy initiative. It is also a cultural, democratic and social project. It asks us to imagine a Europe where sustainability is beautiful, where beauty is inclusive, and where inclusion is intrinsic to the spaces we live in.
